

Managing Stakeholders

An interactive, challenging workshop of influencing stakeholders - in an AI Computer Simulation

Develop Listening and Influencing Skills

Earning buy-in and approval from multiple parties, often with conflicting interests, is a frequent challenge for all organisations.

Learn to better manage complex stakeholder negotiations within a risk-free simulation.

Beneficial For Anyone Who Needs to Engage and Influence Stakeholders

- Managers of all levels who need to build consensus between internal and external stakeholders to achieve their objective.
- Those who manage or sponsor projects and team members

Academically Renowned AI Simulation

- Develop the skills to handle complex and demanding situations where there aren't clear "right answers".
- Cultivate strong project management skills through experience in the simulation and subsequent reflection.
- Embrace this learning opportunity to make mistakes in an environment where errors do not negatively impact your organisation or career.
